Customer Reviews

Priced right, published with quality materials, and filled with interesting facts, these DK readers are perfect for my budding readers at home. My five-year-old enjoys learning about the different topics with colorful pictures and fun details. I recommend these to other parents, especially homeschoolers or afterschoolers who want to feed their children's particular interests.

My six year old granddaughter read this book from the library, and LOVED it. She immediately went online and looked up more information on Pompeii, and asked me to buy this book so she could have her own copy of it.

I bought this book for my niece and she absolutely loved it. She had me read it to her, then her mom, and then her grandma. The words used were good for the age group, and enough bigger words were used to challenge her. The bigger words even had tips for pronunciation. Overall, a great buy!

Five-year old son loves this book. He can read it by himself (though he asks for help understanding some of the concepts). We went to Kilauea, Hawaii last year, and I wish that we had this book then.
